Someone Loves You

And it better be yourself! Love yourself endlessly and unconditionally. Love yourself first and love yourself always. When you notice your thoughts shifting into negative beliefs and thought patterns, remember to stop and say something nice to yourself. Share your self love with the world through acts of kindness towards yourself, others, and the earth.

SEEKING ARTISTS

We accept all forms of drawing, painting, photography, and graphic design to be included as a 5x7 print in a Healing Hearts box. All credit goes to the artist!

Happy Valentines Day from Healing Hearts

Some people have mixed emotions about Valentines Day. At its core, this day is meant to remind others you care about them. A dozen red roses is a classic way to say "I Love You"... now you can enjoy the roses on a deeper level through the various rose infused treasures in this special Self-Love box.
